Chicken Marketing Board Under Investigation May 27, 2009

Opposition House Leader Kelvin Parsons says he'll be interested to see what comes out of an RNC investigation into the province's chicken marketing board. Natural Resources Minister Kathy Dunderdale announced this week she had forwarded a report from the Comptroller General to police after what were termed sloppy financial management practices revealed some questionable transactions. Dunderdale says her office found no evidence of criminal wrongdoing, but she wants to ensure all questions are answered. Parsons says people have been raising concerns with their office for months, as government made changes to financial practices and board management. He says the Minister stated on numerous occasions there were no irregularities with the board. Parsons says it reminds him of the situation with the Bull Arm Corporation.
