No Petroleum Product Price Freezes for Parts of Southern Labrador

Opposition Leader Yvonne Jones says changes in the petroleum pricing mechanism in southern Labrador are a step in the right direction. The Public Utilities Board has announced that there will be no pricing freezes in certain areas of Southern Labrador. Most communities will now have a fluctuating prices like others areas in the province. The community of Black Tickle will remain on the price freeze this winter due to the geography of the area and the challenges of shipping fuel.
