Help Workers on the Northern Peninsula: Dean

The MHA-elect for the Straits-White Bay North is calling for more government action to help workers on the Northern Peninsula. Marshall Dean says many workers are falling through the cracks of the Tory Community Enhancement Program. Dean has written Acting Municipal Affairs Minister Tom Hedderson for more funding in his district to address the gap. He says industry and business have experienced difficulty this year and many who normally head west for work are out of luck because of the economic downturn. Dean says workers are struggling to make ends meet with winter fast approaching.
