

DEC
22
2009

Rural Communities Frustrated With Lack of Broadband Internet Access: Dean

Opposition Critic Marshall Dean says rural communities are expressing frustration with a lack of broadband internet access. Innovation Minister Shawn Skinner says just 15 per cent of the province remains without the service, but efforts are being made to close that gap.