

JUN
9
2010

Opposition Calls for Help for Fishing Communities

The Liberals continue to press government for more action in fishing areas hit by unexpected plant closures. The MHA for the Straits-White Bay North believes that government is doing little to help communities such as Jackson's Arm and Little Bay Islands. Fisheries Minister Clyde Jackman continues to point to the long-term restructuring plan, the MOU, as the answer. But Marshall Dean feels something is needed sooner.