More Accusations Levelled in Air Ambulance Controversy

The MHA for the Straits-White Bay North is accusing the Health Minister of misleading the people of the province. Marshall Dean says Jerome Kennedy is trying to justify his reasoning for moving the air ambulance service out of St. Anthony, rather than tell the truth - that it was a retaliatory move. Dean says the minister also stated the people of St. Anthony would have been better served had they worked with government to address their concerns. He says the minister has conveniently forgotten the people from the community who traveled to Confederation Building for a meeting with the premier and the minister, which was not granted. Dean says they also traveled to Corner Brook on another occasion to meet with the premier and he never showed.
